MATRIMONIAL.

—A dispatch from St. Louis says:
"Miss Cora South Brown, of Kentucky,
the most photographed member of St.
Louis' society, and one of the most beautiful of all the debutantes of recent years, is to be an April bride.
She is the granddaughter of former Gov. Brown.

"Her engagement to William Glasgow O'Fallon was announced Tuesday afternoon at a tea given by Mrs. John A. Ockerson, at her suite in the Kingury apartment. Mrs. Ockerson's guests included some of the relatives of both families and Miss Brown's closest girl friends.

"Cora South Brown is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Young Brown, 5089 McPherson avenue. She was graduated from the Mary Institute in June, 1909, and her 'coming out' ball
the following November at the St.
Louis Woman's Club was one of the most brilliant events of the season.

"She was one of the three maids in the court of honor to the queen at the wedding of the prophet's ball last October, and has been a reigning belle since her debut.

"Miss Brown is a tall, stately girl with a queenly bearing. She has glorious brown eyes and a wealth of brown hair."

Miss Brown is well known in Paris here she has frequently visited, being the guest on several occasions of Mr.
and Mrs. Jos. M. Hall.

—License was secured in Paris Monday by Mr. Elmer S. Foote and Miss Bessie G. Paynter, and they went to Lexington to the home of the latter's sister, Mrs. J. D. Foster, where they were married by Justice Ben D. Bell.
The bridegroom is a popular and well-known young man, son of Mrs. Charles Foot, and the bride is a popular and efficient employee in the local exchange of the East Tennessee Telephone Company.

DEATHS.

—Mrs. Eliza Hildreth, of Bourbon, died in Los Angeles, California, Tuesday. She was a Miss Stipp, of Clintonville, and mother of Gano Hildreth, of Bourbon, and of Mrs. Ann Donaldson, of Los Angeles, California, and resided with her grandson, Dr. S. A.
Donaldson. She was aged 92 years.

BIRTHS.

—Born, to the wife of W. B. Mann, near the Levy, this county, on the 9th inst., twin boys. Mother and children are doing well.

—Born at Mt. Sterling last week to the wife of Richard P. Thomas, a fine ten pound girl—Anne Elizabeth.

RELIGIOUS.

—The Graded Union of Paris Sunday School Teachers still meets every Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the palors of the Christian church. The teachers who attend these meetings from Sunday to Sunday derive much good from them and are better equi-ped to come before their classes on Sunday morning. The crying need of the Sunday school today is prepared teachers. A call to be a Sunday school teacher is a call to prepare for work.
The leaders for the different grades
Sunday will be: Senior, Miss Alice Ford; Intermediate, Mrs. Walter
Clark; Junior, Miss Mary Pithian
Hutchcraft; and Primary, Mrs. Henry Power. Sunday school workers of all denominations are invited to these meetings.

—Elder Wm. Sweeney has accepted a call from the Christian church at Evansville, Ind., a charge he has held for some length of time, to the Harlem Avenue Christian church at Baltimore, Md. Elder Sweeney will probably be in Paris Sunday when he will fill the pulpit at the Christian church for Elder Carey E. Morgan. In the event of his failure to arrive Elder Morgan will preach at both services.

—Bishop Burton, of Lexington, will make his annual visitation to the Paris Episcopal church on Sunday and will preach to the congregation at the services at 10:45 a. m. There will be no afternoon services.

—Preaching Sunday morning and evening at the Baptist church by Rev.
E. M. Lightfoot. Sunday school at 9:30. Everybody invited.

—Dr. B. M. Shive will fill his pulpit at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning and evening at the usual hours.

Horse Scares at Automobile.

While Mr. Harry Kerslake, of this city, was going into Mt. Sterling Friday, a horse driven by Mrs. W. D.
Henry took fright at the machine he was driving and ran away colliding with a telephone pole and throwing Mrs. Henry and her daughter, Miss Gladys, out. Mr. Kerslake was driving his machine very slowly and brought it to a stop before he reached the ladies. It was not until they attempted to pass did the horse take fright. The ladies escaped without serious injury and were assisted to the home of a relative a short distance away. No blame whatever is attached to Mr. Kerslake who used the proper precaution to prevent the animal from taking fright at his automobile.

Robert Gillespie's barn at Carlisle, was destroyed by fire Tuesday, entailing a loss of about $750.

A Dreadful Sight

to H. J. Barnum, of Freeville, N. Y., was the fever sore that had plagued his life for years in spite of many remedies he tried. At last he used Bucklen's Arnica Salve and wrote: "It has entirely healed with scarcely a scar left." Heals burns, boils, eczema, cuts, bruises, swellings, corns and piles like magic. Only 25 cents at Oberdorfer's.

The Electric Chair.

The electric chair at Eddyville was installed this week, in the Eddyville penitentiary. Six murderers have been convicted and are awaiting for the Governor to fix the date of execution.

Not a Word of Scandal

marred the call of a neighbor on Mrs. W. P. Spangh, of Manville, Wyo., who said: "She told me Dr. King's New Life Pills had cured her of obstinate kidney trouble, and made her feel like a new woman." Easy, but sure remedy for stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Only 25c at Oberdorfer's.

What, Another?

Joseph W. Dalzell, Jr., for several years secretary of the Nicholas county board of the Burley Tobacco Society, may become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Representative from Nicholas and Robertson counties. The announced candidates are Editor Green R. Keller, Judge Foster Cox and Judge L. S. Rogers.

Forced to Leave Home.

Every year a large number of poor sufferers, whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs, are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure. There's a better way. Let Dr. King's New Discovery cure you at home. "It cured me of lung trouble," writes W. R. Nelson, of Calamine, Ark., "when all else failed and I gained 47 pounds in weight. Its surely the king of all cough and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. It's positively guaranteed for coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup—all throat and lung troubles. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free at Oberdorfer's.

Wind in the Moving Pictures.

What makes the wind blow so much in the moving pictures? The question is asked by almost everyone who has been bitten by the bug of the moving-picture show. It is a fact that in every scene where there's a half a chance of getting up a breeze it blows a tornado, or at the least brisk gale disperses itself in the trees in the back grounds and the skirts of the harassed heroine in the front.

A moving-picture man solved the problem. "That's easy," he replied in answer to a query. "If the pictures were taken when the air was perfectly still, then if the living character happens to be still also the picture would be as dead looking as a thirty-five-cent chromo of 'Twilight.' So a time is selected for photographing the scenes outside when the wind is playing old hob with things generally, trees swaying, and skirts fluttering and hair flying—haven't you ever noticed how much more effective a woman is when her hair is streaming behind her like the burgee on a racing yacht? Then, too, when everything's busy moving it looks like there's something doing all around."

"Even in the indoor scenes taken in the studio we've found it better to have a little air stirring to live up to the idea and the rubber plant while the girl is lying still in death. So we install electric fans and keep the parlor foliage busy while the photographer is winding in his pictures. The fan is handier than the wandering zephyr, for you can regulate it with a switch key and make it respond to the emotions of the heroine. Yes, wind is a great thing in our business."—New York Times.

Gov. Willson Will Call Extra Session.

Although Governor Willson has not determined upon the date for calling an extra session of the Legislature, it is known positively that he has decided to call an extra session when the report of the census returns in Kentucky is received by him.

Every pledge that was made in the last Republican state platform upon which Governor Willson was elected will be enacted into laws unless the Legislature refuses to act upon them.

Free Remedy For Weak Bowels

There are two forms of bodily cleanliness, the external and the internal. The one is for your pride in yourself; the other for your life and health. Both are important, but of vastly more importance in the long run is the internal cleanliness.

This is one point that all should watch about their body—the cleanliness of the bowels. Keep them clean and free from obstructions. To do this you must have one of the two movements of the bowels each twenty-four hours. If your system does not do this naturally, in the process of eating and drinking, then you must obtain aid of some kind. After finding out that cathartics, salts and such things relieve you for a day, but bind you up worse than ever the next day, then try a simpler and more natural remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

For the skeptical the best way to begin is to send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell for a free sample bottle. Use it as directed and if it convinces you that a brief continuance of its use will relieve you permanently—that it will train the stomach and bowel muscles to obtain aid of some kind after finding out that cathartics, salts and such things relieve you for a day, but bind you up worse than ever the next day, then try a simpler and more natural remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the two sample bottles send your name and address on postal card or otherwise. For further request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 1502 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half a million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as without fee, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

Few medicines are of any benefit for rheumatism, but Mr. Sanders tells plainly what Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine did for it. His First Day in School.

It was a country school. A small, bright-faced boy had just been enrolled, and this was his first day. The teacher pointed out a desk for him, and gave him a lesson to study. He took his seat, propped his knees up against the desk, with his feet swinging down underneath, and soon became absorbed in his lesson. He became so absorbed, in fact, that he forgot he was in school, and presently he poked up his lips and whistled, first softly and then quite shrilly. The teacher laid down his pen in amazement, and cried sharply: "Who is that whistling?" The small boy looked up quickly, and then said, innocently: "That was me. Didn't you know I could whistle?"

Getting Even.

Baby Tim had tried his mother's patience beyond endurance, and, declaring her intention of administering immediate corporal punishment, she snatched up the nearest available weapon, which happened to be Tim's big rag doll. Tim, though little hurt, howled lustily, and that night, taking the doll to bed with him as usual, sternly exclaimed: "It's your turn now, Topsy. You whipped me this afternoon, but you'll sure get yours now!"

A MAN OF MYSTERY.

Peculiar Life of Metastasio, the Celebrated Italian Poet.

Metastasio (1698-1782), the celebrated dramatic and operatic poet, spent fifty-five years in Vienna with the Martinis family without ever learning German or wishing to learn it.

Besides his utter indifference to all speech but Italian, Metastasio possessed many peculiarities of character. None might mention death in his presence. Those who alluded to smallpox before him he made it a point not to see again. In all his fifty-five years in Vienna he never gave away more than the equivalent of $25 to the poor. He always occupied the same seat at church, but never paid for it. He took all his meals in the most mysterious privacy. His greatest friends had never seen him eat anything but a biscuit with some lemonade. Nothing would induce him to dine away from home. He never changed his wig or the cut or color of his coat.

Metastasio was to have been presented to the pope the day he died and raved about the intended interview in the delirium of his last moments. Mrs. Piozzi (familiar to readers of Boswell's "Life of Dr. Johnson" as Mrs. Thrale) collected these particulars from the ladies of the Martinis family, with whom Metastasio was so long domesticated without speaking or understanding a word of their language from first to last.

ETIQUETTE IN SIAM.

On Hands and Knees Before the King Was Long the Custom There.

Perhaps the most revolutionary reform carried out by the late king of Siam was the abolition of the arbitrary rule of etiquette which forbade an inferior in rank to raise his head above that of a superior or even level with it. The inferior must not even pass over a bridge while a superior was underneath it, nor must he enter a room in an upper story while a superior was occupying a room beneath it. Servants approached their masters on hands and knees. This custom is by no means obsolete today in spite of the royal edict, for many of the powerful nobles who live far away from the court still enforce it.

In 1874 the king held a large court, at which no one present presumed to appear otherwise than on hands and knees. It was at this audience that the edict forbidding the custom was read to the prostrate multitude. They there and then rose and stood like men in the presence of their sovereign for the first time on record. Since then there has been no prostration at the royal audiences. But if a superior stops to speak to an inferior in the street the latter will still bend or lower his head in some way as a mark of respect.—London Saturday Review.

Spoiled in the Making.

Behold, when a man on a trolley can remove his hat the other day little Willie observed that he was bald—yes, very bald, for not a single hairs curler trailed over his shining pate. But when it came to whiskers the bald party was right there with the blades. He had whiskers in bundles, whiskers in stacks. In fact, he had enough whiskers to start a rat factory and make a fortune.

"Say, mamma," finally remarked Willie, turning to his mother, "just look at that man there."

"Hush, dear," returned mamma. "He will hear you. What's the matter with him?"

"Everything is the matter with him," replied the youngster. "When the angels made him they put his head on upside down."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

His Blunt Critic.

Irving Bacheller was introduced one day by a mutual friend to a western mountaineer.

"Mr. Bacheller," exclaimed the friend to the mountaineer, "is an author of repute in the east."

"Oh, yes," drawled the mountaineer. "I know of him. I was locked up in my cabin here by the snow two winters ago, and I only had two books to read the whole five months, your book, sir," he said, turning to Mr. Bacheller, "and the Bible, and I read them through several times."

"Indeed!" said the author, a smile of satisfaction wreathing his face.

"Yes, sir," continued the old mountaineer, "and I never knew before how interesting the Bible was."—St. Paul Dispatch.

Grenada Was Bought Cheap.

The island of Grenada, in the British West Indies, was bought by the French from the Caribs by a solemn treaty in the middle of the seventeenth century, and the price paid was two bottles of rum. Esau's mess of pottage was a good stroke of business by comparison. The Caribs soon regretted having sold their birthright and valiantly tried to get the island back by force. It is now one of England's most prosperous colonies in the West Indies.

So Absurd.

Youth—Look here! This horse I hired from you runs on to the pavement every time he sees a motorcar.

Horse Dealer—Well, you don't expect a horse to run up a telegraph pole or climb a tree, do you?—New York Journal.

It Suited Him.

Silas—Say, did you ever see a gold dumb bell just where you wanted it? Storekeeper—Yes; the one on you is exactly all right for me, Sir.—Boston Transcript.

It requires very little trouble to find fault. That is why there are so many critics.—Holmes.

Small Pox in Railroad Camp.

Smallpox has appeared among the negro laborers at one of the construction camps on the L. & N. extension above Jackson, Ky., and two negroes suffering with the disease have been taken to the eruptive hospital, near Lexington for treatment.

As soon as symptoms of the malady made its appearance the two suspects were hustled away, and no fears are entertained of a spread of the malady. Most of the laborers engaged on the construction work are located beyond where the disease was discovered, and therefore did not come in contact with the patients.

There are more than fifteen hundred laborers, principally foreigners and negroes, engaged on the extension, and the work is being pushed with vigor, it is stated, considering the unfavorable weather and the inconvenience attending transportation of material and supplies over the rough mountain roads.

Killed His Brother-in-Law.

Obeys Garnett, of Scott county, shot and killed his brother-in-law, Cleland Ireland, on the latter's farm, in the Leeslick neighborhood Monday.

Ireland had employed Garnett, who was his wife's brother, to work for him on his farm a short time ago. The men were at work and Garnett pulled his pistol and shot Ireland through the head. The latter died a few hours later. Garnett went to Cynthia and gave himself up, and he was sent to jail without bond.

The dead man was 25 years of age and is survived by a wife. Garnett is the son of "Doc" Garnett, of Scott county, and is 21 years old and unmarried.

Obeys Garnett was one of the principal witnesses for the defense in the recent trial in the Scott Circuit Court of Claude Gregg for the murder of Milton Jones.

Ballinger's Resignation Accepted

Richard A. Ballinger's resignation as Secretary of the Interior, dated January 19, last, was accepted yesterday by President Taft, and Walter L. Fisher, of Chicago, was appointed as his successor, his commission being signed immediately by the President. Mr. Fisher will take office within a few days.

Horsemen Should Secure License.

Horsemen who have stallions to stand during this season should remember there is a license to be secured before they can do so legally. County Clerk Paton has informed the News there are a number who have stallions, jacks and bulls who will charge fees for the season, but who have not secured a license. This matter should be looked into by the horse and stock men before proceeding further and probably save trouble with revenue men.

Base Ball News Items.

President J. W. Bacon, of the Paris club, spent Wednesday in Cincinnati with Manager McKernan and reports the manager in tip top shape, showing he has withered finely. McKernan is anxious for the season to open and in the last few days has signed some very promising players and expects to have a club fighting for each and every game. The new men are Carl H. Dild, who plays either infield or outfield; Joe E. Rapp, short stop, and Chas. J. Yerkes, a first baseman or outfielder. The latter is an especially hard hitter, in two games in the fall, batting against Noodles Hahn, the old Cincinnati Red pitcher, Yerkes secured eight no batters out of nine times at bat.

Catcher Simon, brother of the Pittsburgh catcher, has accepted terms and Manager McKernan expects to close a deal today with another high class catcher, a man who classes higher than any backstop now in the Blue Grass League. Other recent acquisitions to the club are Prof. H. W. Harbaugh and Sidney Cooperider, both of Clay City, Ind. The former an outfielder and Cooperider a six-foot left hander with terrific speed.

President Bacon is also in correspondence with the old favorite, Thomas Dugger, and he is to try out a pitcher whom he thinks highly of and expects to sign him for the Paris club. Dugger still has the welfare of the Paris club at heart and often writes of players he thinks will help the team, but wants to look them over carefully before sending them to Paris. Dugger will play with Evansville, Ind., this season and may play the outfield on account of his hitting ability.

President Bacon and Manager McKernan closed a deal with Mr. Bancroft Wednesday by which the Cincinnati Reds will play in Paris Sunday, April 16. It is expensive to get a big league team here and at this game the admission will be fifty cents. The Paris management hopes to break even on this game and are anxious to show their patrons what the Champions can do against the big leaguers.

They also booked the Paris team to play at the Wiedemann park in Newport Sunday, April 30. This team is composed of a great many players of the team that Paris played a few years ago and drew the biggest crowd ever at a ball game in Covington. The Covingtons had won fourteen straight games but went down before McFarland's curves and were beaten 3 to 1. As the Paris club will have some twenty odd men to report there will be a team at home to play on April 30.

The Paris club has refused a $200 cash offer for Scott in the last few days, the offer being made by a big league scout. Four teams are trying to secure Scott at the present time but most of them by trade and McKernan does not care to trade as he is satisfied he has already secured players that will give Paris a high class club. Scott is priced at $300 and considered a cheap man at that price.

The following is a list of players signed to date: Pitchers—Rube Harold, G. L. Timme, Albert Reynolds, Walden Lander, Lester Wood, James E. Hauser, who was recommended by Holder, Frank Serader, Preston Brown, Earl Hewitt, William Holleran, J. L. Barnett, Sidney Cooperider, Catchers—Simon, Peter Ettinger, B. E. Goodman, Infielders—Edward McKernan, Bill Kuhlman, Carl H. Dild, Chas. J. Yerkes, Joe E. Rapp, Fred Grant, Outfielders—Ray D. Goodwin, Prof. Harry W. Harbaugh.

The old players not signed yet are Maxwell, Thau, Barnett, Scott and Chapman. These are expected to be here when the bell taps. The Paris management has the reputation of being liberal with its players and helping them to better positions more than any Class D. team in the country, having sold seven to higher leagues since the close of last season as follows: Kaiser, drafted by Chicago Nationals and Philadelphia Americans, awarded to Chicago and sold to Louisville where he has now reported; Williams, drafted by Toledo; Winchell, drafted by Dayton; Scheneberg, sold to Savannah, Ga.; McCormack, sold to Albany, Ga.; Poole sold to Norfolk, Ga.; Holder, sold to Terre Haute, Ind.

This is a record for a Class D. team and makes all ball players anxious to get a berth on the Paris club under Manager McKernan. McKernan is expected in Paris April 10, and players on same date to get ready for the big game with the Reds April 16.

Improving the local grounds will be the next thing in order and today men will be at work planting fifty trees to improve the looks of the park.

The Frankfort base ball club has signed Hugh M. Quill, of Bedford, Ind., to play first base. He has been highly recommended as a first baseman and a heavy hitter. Manager Lew Coleman is going slow in signing, but is getting together what is believed will be a strong team, especially in the batting line.

Sunday base ball is a sure go in Maysville now. The Maysville Amusement Company, with a capital of $1,000, and the company that is running the Maysville base ball club in the Blue Grass League filed papers of incorporation.

Alien County Farmer Killed by Mob.

Wood Ayres, an Allen county farmer was shot from ambush Monday night and killed by a mob that had assembled quietly for the purpose of taking the life of the man who it is alleged murdered his mother-in-law in an effort to secure her wealth, and of which charge a jury failed to reach a verdict when the case was on trial. His body was riddled with buckshot.

Warrants were sworn out by Flora Jane Ayres, widow of Ayres, for the arrest of Wash Willoughby, Gordon Willoughby, his son, and George Greathouse, son-in-law. They are charged with having taken part in the execution.

"The Dollar Princess" at Lexington.

"The Dollar Princess," the beautiful Viennese musical comedy, comes to the Lexington Opera House Monday, March 20, for two performances, matinee and night. The company is under the management of Mr. Charles Frohman, and numbers nearly one hundred people with a magnificent scenic production, and with a special augmented orchestra. This musical comedy ran ten months at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York. The music of the "Dollar Princess" is almost worthy of a place in grand opera. The lyrics are extremely graceful and melodious, and "The Dollar Princess Waltz" is fast becoming recognized as a successor to the famous "Merry Widow Waltz." "The Dollar Princess" is full of funmakers, and each of its characters seems to be the funniest fellow you have ever met until the next one comes on the stage. Their humor is not of the slap stick sort, but is extremely merry and witty. The piece, through its music and dances and refined merriment, has a universal appeal. One of the prettiest choruses that have ever been seen in Lexington will be seen with this company. The gowns alone in the piece are said to have cost thirty-five thousand dollars, and it is quite the most extravagantly staged piece Mr. Frohman has ever sent out. Owing to the melodious score, special care has been taken by Mr. Frohman to secure girls with good voices.

Notice to the Public.

Paris, Ky., March 9, 1911.
The City Health Board desires a full report of all acute infectious or contagious diseases within the city of Paris. This report is required quarterly by the State Board and cannot be made if those responsible fail to report promptly. Diphtheria, scarlet fever, small pox, tuberculosis and whooping cough especially come under this heading. Will the physicians and heads of families, where none is employed, (and one should always be employed) kindly assist the Board in its efforts for the healthfulness of the city. Our greatest endeavors without your earnest cooperation will avail little. Let us get together then, and see what can be done by unity of spirit in this, the most vital of all public questions. Our conduct right now presages the weakness or strength of the succeeding generation. Stout vigorous manhood and womanhood depends upon correct, early environment. Cleanliness is the foundation of good health. A word to the wise is sufficient.

A Few Words on Loafing.
Don't loaf. Idleness is the root of much evil, and uncheerfulness is one of the shoots from the root. There is no such thing as idleness in nature. The worlds that glitter in the arch of the heavens are ever moving. The moon never stays in one place. The restless sea moans in and out over the harbor bar. The rivers gurggle and splash as they journey to the sea. The trees change their costumes twice a year, and grow a little throughout most of the year. The birds never roost at noonday, and man is the only animal who over-sleeps himself.

For Pantry Shelves.
The shelves in the pantry often mean a great deal of scrubbing. This need not be so if the shelves are covered with white oilcloth, such as is used for tables. Cut the oilcloth in long strips about three inches wider than the shelves. Make flour paste, and with it stick the oilcloth on the shelves, covering the front edge and pasting it underneath, and letting the oilcloth come up about an inch against the wall at the back. Shelves covered with oilcloth will keep tidy for years, and only need wiping over with a cloth and warm water to clean them.

Big Job for John.
"Now John," said Mrs. De Porque to the new gardener, "I hope you will remember all that I have told you. And, whatever you do, don't forget to water the electric light plant."

One of His Peculiarities.
"There are times," said the eccentric boarder, "when I feel almost sure that I could manage to exist for at least six months without hearing or seeing the words, 'proven' and 'got-ten.'"

Knew Her Part.

The other day Mrs. Penhecker's younger sister was married, and a day or two after the wedding the husband said: "Now, darling, I don't believe in bearing malice, and if ever I have any necessity to say anything unkind to you, I will always take them back again as soon as I have cooled down." "You needn't take that trouble, my dear," replied his wife, smiling sweetly; "for if you ever use any hard words to me, I'll always give them back to you at once."

SHOCKED THE GUIDE.

Antics of an Irreverent Visitor at the National Capitol.

A big man with a fierce, bristling gray beard and wearing a broad brimmed slouch hat marched down the main corridor of the capitol, closely followed by a guide at a dog trot. They had inspected statutory hall and the rotunda and looked in at the chamber of the supreme court, and the visitor had made no other comment on the sights shown him than to utter an occasional grunt, snort or growl.

The big man paused at the end of the corridor and jerked his head toward a carpeted passage.

"What's them burglars doing today?" he demanded.

"The senate is not in session, sir," said the guide in a shocked voice.

After the visitor had departed the guide sat down on his chair in front of the statue of Daniel Webster and mopped his heated brow.

"That's one kind that comes here," he said. "We have all kinds, but his style is the hardest to deal with. Called the senate burglars—you heard him—and he kicked at everything else I showed him. That kind comes prepared to kick. They ain't got no patriotism at all, and a United States senator ain't no more to them than a doorkeeper. Why, I'm afraid to take men like him into the supreme court. Likely as not they'll say something disrespectful right out loud. Do you know what that one said when I showed him statutory hall? He says, 'Who are all these crooks?' Then he wanted to know how much all them statues cost the government and who got the raffle. I told him they were given by the states, and he said that was once when the states put one over."

"You wouldn't think," said the guide, with a sigh, "that patriotic Americans could come here and be so callous about the things they see. They seem to begrudge giving a dollar to be shown the place where Webster stood when he made his reply to Hayne. I don't know what the country's coming to. I've been a guide here twenty years, but I never thought I'd live to hear the senate called burglars."—Washington Cor. Kansas City Star.

LIGHTNING VERSUS STEAM.

Testing the Telegraph in the Early Days of Its Invention.

Years ago, when the electric telegraph was a new idea and a mystery to the masses, there came trouble one Saturday night in the Bank of England. The business of the day had closed and the balance was not right. There was a deficit of just £100. It was not the money, but the error, that must be found. For the officers and the clerks there could be no sleep until the mystery had been cleared up. All that night and all Sunday a force of men were busy; money was surely gone from the vaults, but no one could discover whence.

On the following morning a clerk suggested that the mistake might have occurred in packing for the West India some boxes of specie that had been sent to Southampton for shipment. His chief acted on the suggestion. Here was an opportunity to test the powers of the telegraph—lightning against steam, and steam with forty-eight hours the start. Very soon the telegraph asked a man in Southampton, "Has the ship Mercator sailed?"

The answer came back, "Just weighing anchor."

"Stop her in the queen's name," flashed back the telegraph. "She is stopped," was returned.

"Have on deck certain boxes (marks given), weigh them carefully and let me know the result," telegraphed the chief.

This order was obeyed, and one box was found to be somewhere about one pound and ten ounces heavier than its mates—just the weight of the missing sovereigns. "All right. Let the ship go," was the next order.

The West India house was debited with the £100 and the Bank of England was at peace again.—Harper's Weekly.

Hallucinations of Henbane.

Henbane bears a remarkable reputation for creating the most extraordinary hallucinations. Dr. Houlton relates that some monks who ate the roots by mistake for parsnips transformed their monastery into a lunatic asylum. One monk rang the bell for matins at midnight, and of those of the community who attended some could not read, others "fancied the letters were running about like ants," and some read what was not in their books. Even the exhalations from these pretty but very poisonous flowers produce these weird effects.—Westminster Gazette.

The Adoration of the Wig.

Wigs were never so popular as in the reign of Charles II. The author of "The Beaux and the Dandies" tells us that "when Cibber played Sir Fopling Flutter his wig was so much admired that he had it carried to the footlights every evening in a sedan chair, from which it was handed to him that he might put it on his head."

Placing the Blame.

Trouble In the Air.

Husband—You don't go shopping with Mrs. Nearby any more? Wife—No. The last time we went she wanted a remnant that I wanted.—Judge.

HIS GIRL FRIENDS.

Mark Twain Dearly Loved Children as Playmates.

THE ANGEL FISH SOCIETY.

A Delightful and Touching Story About Little Margaret, One of Its Members, and the Genial Humorist—A Pretty Compact and a Quaint Letter.

Like many another great man, Mark Twain was fond of children. He never outgrew childhood, and he always chose young playmates where they were to be found. He formed curious societies of these girl friends. Back in the nineties, when he was living in Europe, he created a club which was to consist of one (only one) girl in each country of the globe, the duty of said member being to write occasionally to the chief officer, who faithfully replied to these random and far-faring messages. Of course these little girls were swept into womanhood presently, but even to the last years of his life the member who signed herself "France" remained faithful to the law.

Another club of girls, little girls, became one of the chief interests during his final years. It had its beginning in Bermuda during one of his frequent visits to those happy islands. It was called the Angel Fish club, after a gorgeous swimmer of those waters, and he gave to each member an angel fish pin as a society badge. It was a successful club, and on his return to America he elected other members, enough to make twelve in all.

His home at Redding, Conn., Stormfield, had been originally named Innocence at Home, and as Angel Fish headquarters Innocence at Home it always remained. Members with their parents visited him there, and the billiard room, where the "fishes" were likely to spend most of their time knocking the balls about, under the chief member's instruction, was called the Aquarium, and gay prizes of many Bermuda fishes were hung along the walls to carry out the idea. Each member had the privilege of selecting one of these as her patron fish and of identifying it with her name.

It was in Bermuda one day when he was walking along the beach with one of his angel fish members that he picked up a small iridescent double shell, delicately hinged together. He separated it and handed his companion half.

"You will be going away from me pretty soon, Margaret," he said, "and growing up, and I won't know you any more. I shall see a great many Margarets, and now and then one of them will say she is my Margaret, but I will say, 'No; you resemble my Margaret, but you are bigger than my Margaret, and I can't be sure.' Then I will take out this shell and I will say, 'If you are really my Margaret you will have the other half of this shell, and it will fit exactly.' Then if she has the shell and it fits I shall know that it is really my Margaret, no matter how many years have gone by or how much older she has grown."

All this he said very gravely and earnestly, and the little girl took the shell thoughtfully and promised to keep it always. Next morning when she came running up to meet him on the hotel veranda he looked at her questioningly.

"You look like Margaret," he said, "but I can't be sure. If you are really my Margaret you will have a shell I gave her once—the mate to this one!"

He got no further. The tall man was promptly produced, and it fitted exactly. He returned to America, and somewhat later Margaret received a letter—one of the pretty letters he was always writing to children. In it he said:

"I am always making mistakes. When I was in New York six weeks ago I was on a corner of Fifth avenue and saw a small girl—not a big one—start across from the opposite corner, and I exclaimed to myself joyfully, 'That is certainly my Margaret,' so I rushed to meet her. But as she came nearer I began to doubt and said to myself, 'It's a Margaret, that is plain enough, but I'm half afraid it is somebody else's.' So when I passed her I held my shell so she couldn't help but see it. Dear, she only glanced at it and passed on. I wondered if she could have overlooked it. It seemed best to find out, so I turned and followed and caught up with her and said deferentially, 'Dear miss, I already know your first name by the look of you, but would you mind telling me your other one?' She was vexed and said, pretty sharply: 'It's Douglas, if you're so anxious to know. I know your name by your looks, and I'd advise you to shut yourself up with pen and ink and write some more rubbish. I am surprised that they allow you to run at large. You are likely to get run over by a baby carriage any time. Run along now and don't let the cows bite you.'"

What an idea! There weren't any cows on Fifth avenue. But I didn't settle. I didn't let go to perceive how uncultured she was. She was from the country, of course, and didn't know what a comical blunder she was making.

Margaret, with her mother, called when they returned to America. When the cards were brought to him he looked at hers and said:

"Well, the young lady, her name seems familiar, but I can't be sure it's my Margaret without a certain token which she is supposed to carry as a proof." The shell came up without delay. He took the two halves now to a jeweler and had them set in gold as charms. One of these Margaret wore on a ribbon about her neck, and the other he linked to his watch chain, where it remained till he died. What a sweet fancy it all was!

He spent the last months of his life in Bermuda in the home of one of his angel fish, Helen Allen, daughter of the American vice consul there. She was his daily companion, and it will be his lifelong happy memory that she brightened and comforted his final days.—Albert Bigelow Paine in Ladies' World.

Mr. Hubert Orme and Miss Bettie Woods were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Woods, and went to housekeeping at once in the property of Mrs. Amanda Mastin, recently vacated by Mr. Dennis McMahon and family. Mr. Orme until now has resided in the Riddles Mills neighborhood. It is his second matrimonial venture.

Mr. H. Hall, who has resided on the farm of Mr. J. F. Berbee for the past year, moved this week with his family to Portsmouth, O. Mr. Hall came here about a year ago, for the purpose of growing tobacco. He was drawn to Kentucky from the Buckeye State on account of the extravagantly high prices of the weed. When the pool was dissolved last fall he like many others refused 12 cents for his tobacco. About two weeks ago he sold it on the loose leaf market at Lexington for 7 cents.

Prof. Hannibal Williams, the noted Shakespearean reader, will give a reading this evening at the M. F. C.

chapel under the auspices of the Shakespearean Club of the college. Prof. Williams comes highly recommended and is said to be one of the three best readers of Shakespeare in the United States. This is a rare treat and all lovers of the art should take advantage of it. The club has been put to heavy expense to secure his services in order that the public might be entertained and defied. Exercises will begin at eight o'clock. Admission 35 cents.

Mr. Robert McClintock was in Maysville on business Thursday.

Dr. W. H. Huffman was in Cynthiana on business yesterday.

Mr. H. M. Campbell spent Sunday with lady friends at Poplar Plains.

Mrs. Nannie Porter, of Midway, arrived Wednesday to be at the bedside of her brother, Mr. E. M. Neal.

For the next several weeks Millersburg will be quite gay, beginning with this evening when J. Hannibal Williams, the Shakespearean reader, will appear at the M. F. C. chapel. March 17 and 24 there will be a recital at the chapel; March 31, the annual Senior and Junior reception at M. F. C.; Friday, April 7, "Ogling Owls" at the opera house under the auspices of the Masenic Lodge; Friday, April 14, juvenile entertainment at the M. F. C. chapel, under the management of Miss Sallie McIntyre.

Millersburg is beset with owls. Their shrieks can be heard three times a week. Many of the sleepers of the town are disturbed by them.

The good people of the community will band themselves together on the evening of April 7 for the purpose of exterminating these owls if possible. If you belong to the good people of Millersburg you will join the popular movement. The owls must be exterminated and it will take numbers to do it. Don't forget the date.

Mayor W. D. Waddell received a telegram Tuesday morning from his brother, Mr. George Waddell, of Atlanta, Ga., saying that he was married on Monday to Miss Fannie L. Pettibone, of the same city, and that a letter with particulars would follow later. A letter was received Tuesday night saying they would spend a few days in Nashville and thence to Louisville for a brief visit. The family have written to him at Louisville urging him to come home with his bride for a few days. Mr. Waddell is one of our old Millersburg boys of who we are justly proud. He is connected with the Puffer Manufacturing Company, of Boston, Mass., and for the past several years has had charge of their southern business, making headquarters at Atlanta, Ga. He is a typical Kentucky gentleman with sterling business qualities. His services having been invaluable to his company and he is one of the few big salaried men. Miss Pettibone is one of the popular and accomplished young ladies of her city and all Millersburg friends extend congratulations.

Vreeland Likely to Win Tomorrow.

The State Board of Agriculture, Forestry and Immigration has been called to meet in Louisville Saturday, March 11, and it is expected that a secretary of the State Fair will be elected to succeed J. W. Newman.

Perry Shy, secretary of the Agriculture Board, stated Tuesday that he was not a candidate for the secretaryship, as has been reported, and neither was Fred Blackburn, of Benton, who is a member of the board.

Unless all signs fail, Robert Vreeland, former Commissioner of Agriculture, will land the secretaryship, and his friends on the board predict that he will be elected at the meeting on Saturday.

Wins Leniency of Police Judge.

A dispatch from Cincinnati says: "Miss Myrtle Watkins, a young girl from Cynthiana, Ky., won the leniency of the Police Court in Cincinnati today by her tears and her request that she be allowed by Judge Bode to take her child to her Kentucky home to live. The child was abandoned by the mother when she was discharged from a hospital in Cincinnati. She returned here last week and told the court officials that she had meant to return for the babe. Today she stood before Judge Bode and told him that the child's father had promised to marry her and care for her as soon as he could find work. The judge took compassion upon her and took the case under advisement until March 13. In the meantime he will have a letter written to Cynthiana to learn if the father really intends to marry her."

Operator Fired Upon.

Eleven shots were fired through the windows of the King's Mountain station on the Q. & C. railway midnight Tuesday at the telegraph operator, F. A. Ross, but none of the bullets struck the intended victim. The shattered glass was driven into his face, however, and several serious wounds inflicted. Thomas Brackett, a young white man, was arrested by a special officer from Danville and was placed in the jail at Stanford to await trial charged with the crime. This is the third time this sort of crime has occurred at the King's Mountain station, the operators being killed in both other cases. Three years ago Harold Vandiver was shot and killed while on duty in the station. Eighteen months ago Matthew Engleman was shot to death at the same place. Detectives innumerable have tried in vain to trace his murderer and no arrests have ever been made.

ROYAL Baking Powder Economy

The manufacturers of Royal Baking Powder have always declined to produce a cheap baking powder at the sacrifice of quality.

Royal Baking Powder is made from pure grape cream of tartar, and is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price, and is more economical at its price than any other leavening agent, because of the superlative quality and absolute wholesomeness of the food it makes.

Mixtures made in imitation of baking powders, but containing alum, are frequently distributed from door to door, or given away in grocery stores. Such mixtures are dangerous to use in food. In England, France, Germany and some sections of the United States their sale is prohibited by law. Alum is a dangerous mineral acid, and all physicians condemn baking powders containing it.

The label of alum baking powders must show the ingredients.

Great Army is Mobilizing.

An army of approximately 20,000 men, representing all branches of the service, is mobilizing along the Mexican borders of the United States. It is officially stated, and the Administration made special efforts to substantiate the statement, that the sole purpose of this unusual mobilization was to conduct maneuvers on a grand scale for the training of officers and men.

Somerset in Fourth Class.

At Somerset Circuit Judge Bethurum decided that Somerset was a city of the fourth class and that the Legislature wrongfully transferred the place to a city of the third class. The case is the first one of its kind to be decided in the State and will have a far-reaching effect as Middleboro was put in the third class at the same time, and the conditions are said to be the same in both cities.
